Excuses for not building accessibly

- Not enough money
- Ran out of time
- Accessible websites are ugly
- We don't want to affect the experience for the majority of our users
- People with disabilities make up a small consumer market

Who is accessibility for?

A DISABILITY REVOLUTION

I'm very tired of being thankful for accessible toilets. If I have to feel thankful about an accessible bathroom, when am I ever gonna be equal in the community?
